VISAYAS
Iloilo Santa Rita, Wvsu Janiuay Campus 0010A, 0010B	2 PCOS machines are not operating for more than an hour already. The COMELEC already sent a technician to fix the machine.
Iloilo San Enrique Central School 21A, 22A, 22B, 23A	via SMS: The PCOS machine in Barangay Cabugao, San Enrique, Iloilo was not used in the voting. They put all the filled up ballots in the plastic box where the PCOS is placed. We were told that they will use another PCOS to do the counting. We observed that many ballots are crumpled and may be rejected during the process.  via phone call: The voting started this morning but the machine did not work. The machine was replaced but again it was defective so they resulted to manual voting. The contingency plan of the COMELEC is to use another PCOS machine to count the ballots. The concern is some of the ballots were crumpled.
Guimaras – Lanipe Elementary School, 051A, 51B, 053A, 056A, Nueva Valencia, 12:00 PM	Voting was delayed because the PCOS machine seemed to be defective. It loaded slowly. The paper jams when you insert the ballot, and it takes a very long time until the PCOS works/functions normally again. They were able to resolve the problem.
Guimaras – Paaralan ng Buhay ng Don Domingo Granda Memorial School, 0105A, 0106A, 0107A, 0107B, 0108A, Sto. Domingo, Nueva Valencia	There was a delay in the elections because the PCOS machine suddenly hangs up. Almost 30 minutes was consumed for this, and the technician tried to do something but failed. The BEI decided to turn it off, and then turned it on again. This made it work more smoothly.
Siquijor	Cang-asa: PCOS with serial # 001SS18A01049223 malfunctioned after 177 have already been cast. 176 ballots have already been shaded by voters but not casted to the PCOS. At 2:40 PM, they were waiting for the contingency PCOS machine.
